

Society for International Development, Ottawa-Gatineau Chapter

Société pour le développement international, Section Ottawa-Gatineau

“Development in a Changing World”

Margaret Biggs

President, Canadian International Development Agency

Time: 10:30 a.m. – noon, Thursday, February 11, 2010

Location: Senate Room, 6th floor, Robertson Hall, Carleton University, Ottawa

Parking available in the parking garage beside Robertson Hall

Students attend for free; Other attendees: $10. All proceeds will go towards Haiti relief.

For registration and tickets, please go to <http://developmentinachangingworld.eventbrite.com>

Tickets also available at the door.

As part of the 20th anniversary of International Development Week, Ms. Biggs will discuss some of the development challenges facing the world today and how CIDA is managing its program in the face of these challenges.

Ms. Biggs was appointed President of the Canadian International Development Agency in July 2008. Prior to her appointment at CIDA, she was the Deputy Secretary to Cabinet in the Privy Council Office and has held a variety of senior positions in the federal government.

Ms. Biggs has an M.A. from the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs.

Canadian International Development Agency

Agence canadienne de développement international

